

Liquitex Communication COVID-19

An important message to our community

As a brand, we pride ourselves on providing tools and resources to support our amazing community of artists around the world.

During this challenging time, we have taken additional steps to protect our teams including increasing hygiene and quality control procedures at our facilities and asking employees to work remotely where possible, while continuing to operate under the guidance of global health organizations and local governments.

It's easy to feel isolated and alone at a time like this, but we take comfort in knowing that we are part of a strong artistic community, supporting and looking out for the wellbeing of one another. We encourage those who might be homebound to use this time to find new ways to be creative, connected, and inspired.

We will be digging into the archives to share with you some useful guides, how-to's, and other additional resources to inspire your creativity over the coming weeks. As always, our customer service team is available to answer any questions you may have. You can contact them here.

We know these times are difficult, uncertain, and constantly evolving. And in a small way, we hope our community connects you with others around the world.

Stay safe, stay well, and stay creative.
