

Inside the artist's imagination with Liquitex

As Liquitex celebrates its 65th anniversary, the brand is proud to be a part of the journeys of a wildly creative community of artists. It is a privilege to be able to not only support these artists with materials and resources, but also to share their stories and artwork with the world.

The stories of these artists give a glimpse into the lives, studios, work, and imagination of creators in the Liquitex community. Kicking off with a spotlight on London-based multi-media artist Duggie Fields, take a dive into his wonderfully colourful landscape, peek into his home/workspace, watch his practice, and listen to his studio playlist.

And keep an eye out as Liquitex continues to share stories of artists who have inspired them along their journey.
