

Town Hall Meeting – Watch the video!

On Friday 15th October, we held the fortnightly Town Hall meeting hosted by CEO Dennis van Schie.

This time Dennis hosted the THM in a different location and with an exceptional live audience, as GLT met offsite for a strategy meeting. Dennis started the session by explaining that he is still reading the book he recommended in the previous live stream, Dominion by Tom Holland. It is a long and challenging book but 100% worthy. His second piece of inspiration was another book he is reading this time in Swedish, 10 lektioner för ett hållbart näringsliv (10 lessons for a Sustainable business life), a book presented to them during the Lindengruppen management conference early last week.

Talking about COVID-19, currently we have one positive case. Dennis announced that there are no employees furloughed anymore, meaning that schemes are done. He reminded us that the delta variant is around and that we still need to be conscious and careful.

Company-wise, Dennis said that it was a hectic week with all the individual business reviews. They discussed the closing of October and FC-2 (forecasts). Forecast 2 has a positive result although he recognised that the sales are coming down. He also spoke about the different challenges that Colart is facing, like Global transportation chaos.

We invited Ajita Chamberlin, Quality and Sustainability Manager and Olivia Grimes, Sustainability Coordinator, to talk about Sustainability and Bcorp. Ajita gave a little recap on our sustainability strategy and introduced Olivia. Olivia has been with us only for a month, and we need to recognise the significant effort she made putting herself in front of the camera and explaining to the company what is Bcorp, why it is essential for Colart and the phases of the project.

Every THM, we see more questions and more comments. This time someone asked about Blue Sky Project. If you want to know more about it, you can read this article, but we are happy to announce that Bruno will explain the project better in one of the following Town Hall Meetings.

Thank you for joining!

If you couldn't make it to the live event. Check out the video here.
